WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN.

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over forty years' experience—a skilful and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment cures in the privacy of your home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands of bad cases. It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take his advice and be well.

Mrs. R. D. Monfort, of Lebanon, Warren Co., O., writes: "I have received the 'Medical Adviser.' A crisp, new five dollar bill could not tempt me to part with it."

On receipt of 21 one-cent stamps, to pay cost of mailing only, we will send to any address a paper-bound copy of Dr. Pierce's great 1000-page book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser." Or, for 31 stamps the same in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

And C. Dieckman, of 193 Hendricks St., Detroit, Mich., writes: "I have always found relief from earache by using Hamlins Wizard Oil." Price 50c and $1.00.

TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

The Paris Petit Journal yesterday morning prints an interterview had by its correspondent at St. Malo with one of the survivors of the wreck of the channel steamer Hilda, who gave the following graphic description:

"When the Hilda struck on the reef I was on deck with the five others who were brought here. Seeing the signals made by the captain, I was asking myself what was going to happen and thought that my end was near, when suddenly my ears became confused as though there were peals of thunder and I felt that the steamer was no longer moving. Around me I could hear yells and imprecations and amidst this hubbub a voice—that of the second officer, I think—who was saying, 'All the boats are loose! My God, it is too late!'

"The vessel then shook and compelled me to leave my footing. I was thrown on to the rigging and my hands instinctively took hold of the ropes. I held on firmly and climbed up. All was dark around and I stuck there, notwithstanding the storm. Masses of human beings were grasping the same rigging and when the sea ceased to roar I could hear groaning, which gradually ceased, and then followed the hollow noise of a body falling in the water, another victim of the cold. This was how I spent the night in the rigging."

Grinter, the survivor, said to another correspondent:

"There is no truth in the report that the Hilda's boilers burst. There was a terrific shock as the steamer struck the rocks, and this made a noise resembling an explosion. I am an engine-room mechanic, and as such I am positive that the boilers are intact.

"The Hilda was pinned on a huge rock, and the waves, sweeping fiercely over her, carried away the women and children.

"With 30 others persons, by actual count, I climbed up into the rigging and I managed to hold on until rescued. The others gradually fell off before the fearful storm of hail and sleet until only six of us remained when we were sighted by the steamer Ada, which rescued us when nearly dead as the result of cold and exposure.

"The report that the Hilda struck on Sunday morning also is wrong. She went on the rocks at 10 o'clock on Saturday night while going dead slow and trying to make the entrance of St. Malo harbor."

The Fleet Virginia.

The new battleship Virginia, built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, in her screw standardizing tests yesterday, made one dash over the measured mile off Owls Head, Maine, at the speed of 19.784 knots an hour, a new American mile record for ships of her class and .31 of a knot faster than that made by the Rhode Island three weeks ago.

The spurt was made on the third of the eleven runs during which it was ascertained that 129.3 revolutions of her screw are necessary for the Virginia to maintain her contract speed of nineteen knots an hour. The Rhode Island required 125.3 revolutions to maintain the same speed.

The trial yesterday was made under favorable conditions, there being a fairly strong off-shore breeze, which made the course comparatively smooth. The battleship left the harbor shortly before 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and after warming up ran up the bay, came back and headed for the mile, with her smokestacks belching great clouds of smoke and the water tumbling in huge cataracts over her bows.

The average for five best runs over the course was 18.975 knots an hour. The machinery worked perfectly, and there was very little vibration at high speed. The starboard engine averaged 129.32 revolutions and the port 129.22 revolutions while the vessel was making nineteen knots.

The crew will be given a rest today, and tomorrow the Virginia will start down the coast on her four-hour endurance run, during which she must show a speed of nineteen knots an hour.

Terrific Race With Death.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandez, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and today I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards, of Des Moines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared. I feel that this bottle of Pain Balm saved me several days' time, to say nothing of the suffering." This liniment is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

A Big Dinner.

The largest dinner ever given assembled at Paris a few days ago. The Mutualists of France dined at the Galerie des Machines. About fifty thousand sat down together. Five hundred waiters served and 15,000 dishes were used at nine miles of tables. There were 150,000 plates, which if piled up would reach ten times higher than the Eiffel Tower. The "cheer" included 25,000 bottles of red and white wine, 15,000 bottles of beer, 6,000 bottles of milk, 10,000 bottles of mineral waters, 5,000 bottles of champagne, 4,000 half bottles of liquor, and two steam urns, each of 15 horsepower, brewed the coffee. Meats of all kinds weighed seventy tons, and there were three quarters of a ton of cigars.

Do not be deceived by counterfeits when you buy Witch Hazel Salve. The name of E. C. DeWitt & Co. is on every box of the genuine. Piles in their worst form will soon pass away if you will apply DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve night and morning. Best for Cuts, Burns, Boils, Tetter, Eczema, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 22, 1905.

THANKSGIVING DAY is again drawing near, and, like the Christmas and Easter seasons, it is anticipated by a large majority. It is a season of feasting and the spirit of true thanksgiving is but an incident of the festivities. Some merchants advertise delicacies to tickle the palate and others raiment supposed to be in keeping with the occasion, while some utilize the season to tempt housekeepers to metamorphose the interior of their homes and provide decorations for the day. In instances where the return of thanks is the chief feature of the day and the festivities made secondary thereto, the true object of the day is accomplished; but, unfortunately, like Christmas, in the great majority of cases the spiritual import of Thanksgiving Day is obscured by feasting, theatre parties and attempts to outshine one another. Many who cannot afford to enter into the foregoing festivities spend the day gunning, fishing or in other pastimes. In fact, the day has long since lost its true meaning. There is much for which people in this country should be thankful, as conditions here stand in marked contrast to those in many other portions of the globe. There were abundant harvests during the past season, and the nation has been singularly exempt from dearth and commotion which have beset other lands. The recent appearance of six or seven thousand women in Whitehall, London, pinched by hunger and scantily clothed, is one of the pictures of the beginning of winter in the English metropolis, while civil war, panic, famine and pestilence have stalked abroad in other countries.

AN ARTICLE elsewhere in the Gazette describing the arbitrary action of the steel company in Pittsburg, Pa., in taking forcible possession of the property of a poor widow, razing the same to the ground and depositing upon the premises building material for the use of the company, will bring to mind the incident in Bible history relative to Naboth's vineyard and the cruelty of Jezebel. The truth of the old saying is again verified—corporations have no souls. The steel company had endeavored to purchase the woman's homestead and had failed, it applied to the courts with no more success, and eventually used force to deprive the widow of her inheritance. The soulless organization is now ready to ask, What will she do about it?

THE New York dentist who charged Prince Henry of Battenburg one thousand dollars for filling four of his teeth is coming in for rounds of censure and abuse from those well informed as to the circumstances. From what is published of the matter, the charge was a most exorbitant one, though the bill was paid without question by the prince. The dentist evidently acted on the theory that he would never have another chance at the prince, so got all there was any chance of getting. It is needless to say that the lady who recommended the dentist to the prince will never make a similar recommendation again.

THE FIRST-CLASS battleship Virginia had a standardization trial over the Rockland course, yesterday, during which she not only satisfactorily demonstrated that she would make the contract speed of nineteen knots, but developed speed that makes her the fastest battleship in the navy. The Virginia was built in the Newport News, Virginia, shipbuilding yard, and like all the other ships, naval and merchant, constructed at that yard, reflects credit upon Virginia and her designers and artisans.

AN electrical paddling machine recently invented is now in operation in the public school in East Penna, a suburb of Peoria, Ill. The mode of operation is to place the recalcitrant pupil over a chair near the spanking machine, press the button, and the flow of electricity starts a series of paddles in operation which play upon the anatomy of the spankee. It has been suggested that a gross of the machines be put in operation in the schools in Alexandria.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.

One of the most significant measures connected with the present resumption meeting of the Senate committee on interstate commerce is the presence of Senator Nelson A. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, chairman of the finance committee and the leader of the dominant party in the Senate. He is an openly acknowledge opponent of the proposal to give the Interstate Commerce Commission power to fix a railroad rate, after one in dispute has been found to be unreasonable, and he has declared that he could not sanction any measure that would treat the railroad interests of the country unjustly, as he says would be the result of the Esch-Townsend bill. The presence of the Rhode Island Senate, at the committee meeting, for the first time since Congress adjourned is in some quarters attributed to the belief that the railroad interests have finally abandoned hope of stemming the current that has set in for regulation, and are now laboring for a compromise. At the conference of yesterday, after the departure of the democratic members, the Rhode Island Senator expressed the earnest hope that the doctrine of majority party rule should prevail in the committee. He said he had great faith that before the committee had concluded its consideration of the question a basis would be reached that would be fairly acceptable to the majority. Some members who wavered at first are now aggressively for "the President's plan," as it has become known. The attitude of democratic members has become known. Four members are now classed with the regulation forces who six months ago were doubtful—Clapp, Newlands, Tillman and Carmack. The new alignment is placed this way: Against rate regulation—Aldrich, Elkins, Foraker, Kean and Foster. For regulation—Cullom, Dolliver, Clapp, Carmack, Newlands and Tillman. In doubt—Millard and McLaurin. At this afternoon's meeting of the committee there will be present a rate regulation bill drawn by the Interstate Commerce Commission, at the suggestion of the Senate committee. The commission's bill not only provides for the power to fix a reasonable rate, but it gives the commission the power to fix a maximum of the minimum rate in discrimination cases between competitive points This is to overcome the claim of the railroads that schedules within a certain territory are so interdependent that the reduction of one would necessarily lower others, thus continuing the same discrimination against certain competing points.

The general land office has decided at last, after four years, to relinquish United States sovereignty over the Isle of Pines. Notwithstanding the attitude of the administration on this subject, to the effect that the United States never did possess such sovereignty, all the official maps gotten out by the land office since 1900 designate the little dot of land off the Island of Cuba, as "Pine Island (U. S.)" In the forthcoming map for 1905, the "U. S." will be cut out. Under the treaty of Paris, Spain ceded to the United States Porto Rico "and other islands now under Spanish sovereignty in the West Indies," while she merely relinquished her title to Cuba. The land office officials apparently construed the Isle of Pines as being one of the "other islands" of the West Indies, and not a part of Cuba. Under the Platt amendment, which was made an appendix to the Cuban constitution, the status of the Isle of Pines was left to future adjustment by treaty between Cuba and the United States. The treaty has been negotiated, but still awaits ratification by the Senate.

The sarcastic remarks of Governor Odell aimed at President Roosevelt's efforts to bring order out of chaos in New York polities created something of a sensation about the hotel lobbies where the Empire State men congregate, but did not raise a ripple at the White House. If the President has decided to follow Mr. Odell's advice and invite Mr. Halpin to leave the headship of the county republican committee, he has thus far given no intimation of the move. During the forenoon the President held consultations with Representative J. Sloat Fassett and Postmaster William R. Willcox of New York, and it is presumed, went over the political situation with them.

Besides spending the $10,000,000 cash appropriated by Congress, the Panama Canal Commission has made contracts to the amount of $9,000,000 more, payment on which will become due before the end of June next. In addition to this, Secretary Bishop says, the Commission now owes a lot of bills, payment on which is overdue. These, together with the ordinary running expenses of the Commission here and on the Isthmus, including salaries and wages, for the next six months, will amount to $7,000,000 more. In order to meet the debt now due and the liabilities incurred the Commission will ask Congress for an emergency appropriation of $16,000,000 to become immediately available. The Commission hopes that the money will be appropriated before Congress takes its Xmas recess. This statement of the financial condition of the Canal Commission is likely to strike Congress as rather startling, and will probably heighten the demand for an investigation as to the methods pursued in the expenditure of so much money.

Postmasier William R. Willcox, of New York, is in town for the purpose of conferring with Postmaster General Cortelyou and members of Congress with a view to securing an increase of appropriation for the conduct of his business. "We are doing about an eleventh or tenth of the entire postal business of the country in New York city" said Mr. Wilcox, "and we think that we ought to get a little more of the money that we take in. Last year our receipts were about $10,000,000 and this year will be about $12,000,000."

President Roosevelt received a visit this morning from his highness, El Hadji Abdullahi Sadik Bahsa, Hokel of Harrar, the special representative of King Menelik of Abyssinia. The visitor, with his ebony-hued countenance, fez of brilliant red, and the yards of gold lace adorning his uniform, made an imposing appearance. There accompanied him to the door of the Executive Mansion a wagon loaded with four huge elephant tusks, a lion's skin, a mounted leopard and several other trinkets, a remembrance to the President from his sovereign. Major Carson, of the bureau of manufacturers of the department of Commerce and Labor, introduced the visitor to the President. El Hadji remained at the White House for half hour, and brought away with him a signed photograph of the President

John Duvall, a street car motorman, while in a delerious condition from intoxicating drinks, jumped from his bath room to the ground at his home, 536 3rd street, northeast, at three o'clock this morning. His skull was fractured and he otherwise received serious injuries. He was taken to the hospital in a dying condition.

The State Department has not been advised of any disturbances in Panama and entirely discredits the reports printed this morning that there has been or is impending a revolution in that small republic.

The foreign members of the board of consulting engineers on the Panama canal feel very much hurt at the reported dissatisfaction of President Roosevelt with their recommendation for a sea-level canal.

A delegation of fifteen lawyers from the Indian Territory, escorted by Senator Clark, of Wyoming, and Pliny Soper, republican national committeeman from the territory, called at the White House this afternoon and lodged a strong protest against the reappointment of Judge Charles W. Raymond of the U. S. District bench of the western district of the Indian Territory.

Representative and Mrs. W. A. Jones, of Virginia, who were members of Secretary Taft's party to the Philippines, are again at their home in Q street.

Baron Sternburg, the German Ambassador, was at the State Department this morning and had a conference with Secretary Root on the general relations existing between Germany and the United States. He has been somawhat disturbed by recent publications representing the growth of an unfriendly attitude between the two countries. He says that the German government entertains nothing but the most friendly feelings towards this country and that the negotiations looking towards a new commercial arrangement between the United States and Germany are progressing slowly, but with the utmost cordiality. Whether a new treaty will result from the negotiations he was unable to say on account of the fact that so few of the gentlemen who will have to pass upon the proposed convention, when it is completed, are yet in the city.

News of the Day.

While temporarily deranged yesterday Martin Nelson, of East Warren, Pa., is alleged to have tied his wife, Agnes, to the D., L. & W. Railroad tracks, where she was fatally injured by a train. Nelson is still at large.

Dr. Walter Webb, president of Nashotah College, was yesterday at Milkaukee, Wis., unanimously elected bishop coadjutor to Bishop Isaac Lea Nicholson, of the Milwaukee Episcopal Diocese, on the first formal ballot.

Mrs. Sarah Weigand, the pretty 20-year-old wife of a farmer, of Mount Vernon, Ind., on Tuesday sued Dr. David McDonald, dentist, for $10,000, for a kiss she alleges he stole while examining her teeth. She says he also hugged her.

While Germany has 6,500,000 women who earn their own living, Italy, with only one-half the population, has 5,200,000. In Germany the number of servant girls who have a savings bank account is nearly three times as large as that of shop girls who have them.

A cat, in its eagerness to catch a mouse, jumped over the table at the residence of Peter Mulcavage, at St. Clair, Pa., yesterday evening, overturning a tureen of hot soup on Mulcavage, who was so terribly scalded that physicians at the Pottsville Hospital doubt whether he will recover.

Jumping from his cradle and over his mother's head as he was being carried downstairs, 6-months-old George Fink plunged down to his death yesterday morning, at York, Pa. Seeing his mother at the lower end of the cradle, the baby lunged forward, going over her head and landing at the bottom of the steps with a fractured skull.

Four men were blown to pieces yesterday afternoon by an explosion at the labratory of the International Smokeless Powder and Chemical Company, at Parlin, N. J. What caused the explosion will never be known, as only the four men were in the building at the time. The building was a one-story frame, and because of the liability to explosions was separated from all others in the plant except one by a space of several hundred feet. The next building was a storehouse in which supplies used in the other were stored. This caught fire and was burned.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

Lying on a couch at his home in West Philadelphia helpless from paralysis, David F. Rowe, an elderly man, was shot four times yesterday by Caspar Cooper, his son-in-law, who then fled from the house and killed himself by sending a bullet through his head. The father-in-law's wounds are so serious that he had to be removed to a hospital. It is believed he will recover. Cooper had been married to Rowe's daughter about three years, but the wife left him about eight months ago because of ill treatment. Yesterday the husband returned to his father-in-law's house and asked to see his wife. Rowe said she was out earning her living. The father-in-law reproached the son-in-law for ill-treating his daughter, and a quarrel followed, which ended by Cooper shooting his wife's father while he lay on the couch. Before any one could interfere Cooper ran from the house, and, entering a building two blocks from the scene of the shooting, sent a bullet crashing into his brain. He was dead when picked up.

Decoy for Squirrels.

Squirrels this year are more plentiful than ever known before. One man, Mr. Williams, is known to have killed more than any other two huntsmen. He has already killed 186. He had three cheap watches He would get into the woods and go to two hickory trees where the squirrels feed: He would wind the watches up, put them in a small tin can and to each can a string. Then each was tied to the limb of a tree. Then he would get in some secluded spot. As the watches would tick away the noise was like that of a squirrel cutting a nut and could be heard for a great distance. Every squirrel in the neighborhood would be drawn to the trees, where they supposed their companions were having a big feast. In this way every squirrel has been killed by being decoyed in those two trees by this new device. Mr. Williams says he has seen as many as six at a time running around the limbs where the watches were fastened.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

How Trunks are Smashed.

A man who has paid money for a trunk dislikes to see it dropped four feet out of a car door to a cement platform. It damages the trunk and rattles its content. The handling of trunks is not a ribbon counter business, and after a man has handled 100,000 of them he naturally becomes somewhat callous. But each man's trunk is valuable to him, if not to the baggage-man, and there would seem to be no more reason for deliberately breaking up trunks than for killing Chinamen because there are so many of them. This is one reason when a thoughtless person carries dynamite in his trunk and it goes off and blows the top of the station about a million feet into the air that the traveling public reads of the accident with chastened joy and inwardly hopes that the baggage smasher went along with the top of the station.

She was about fifty-nine years old.

Five Hundred to One.

After having retarded the progress of the $20,000,000 addition to the great steel plant of the Jones & Laughlin Company, on the South Side, Pittsburg, for more than six months, Mrs. Sarah Lot, who stubbornly refused to part with her home, which was desired by the steel corporation, was defeated Saturday afternoon.

Taking the law in its own hands, and in open defiance of the Court, the steel corporation sent 500 workmen to the little home of the widow during her absence to get an injunction from the court.

The men overpowered her three ferocious dogs, which had been left on guard, and within half an hour tore down the stockade which had been built around the house, and carried house and furnishings off the property. Great steel girders and tons of stone were placed on the ground instead.

The addition of the great steel plant extends along Sidney street, from Twenty-fourth to Thirty-fourth street. The company bought up all the property along the street. Mrs. Lot positively refused to sell.

Fifty years ago her husband had taken her to the house as his bride, and there she reared her family, and there her husband died. On his deathbed he told her never to sell the old homstead, declaring that bad luck would come to her if she did.

Her son and daughter advised her to sell to the steel company when a liberal offer was made. The company tried to force her out by building all around her, but she only erected a stockade around her two-story frame house, purchased three ferocious dogs and defied the corporation.

Finding itself balked, the company applied to the courts, but could get no relief. They offered Mrs. Lot a bonus of $10,000 and agreed to settle with her heirs; but they might as well have talked to Lot's wife of old—she of salt.

The widow left Charles Lot, her brother-in-law, in charge of the property when she went to the court house Saturday.

He strayed over to the Jones and Laughlin's property, was arrested for trespassing and the house was demolished before Mrs. Lot's return.

Burned to Death.

With her clothes a mass of flame, Miss Lucy Adams, 35 years old, rushed from the doorway of her home, at Gainesboro, Frederick county, Tuesday morning, ran 100 yards and then dropped unconscious to the ground. She was carried into the house and died Tuesday night. Miss Adams was standing in front of an open fire, at her home, when suddenly a tongue of flame shot out and licked her garments, She was instantly ablaze, and, terror-stricken, rushed from the room. Her mother, Mrs. Delphia Adams, seized a blanket and a bucket of water and started in pursuit of the blazing figure. The woman was running wildly about the yard, screaming with pain, and the mother did not overtake her until it was too late. In her efforts to smother the flames Mrs. Adams tore the clothes from the burning girl's body and deluged her with water. Physicians were hurriedly summoned, and it was found that Miss Adams was terribly burned from the shoulders down. She had also inhaled the flames and her lungs were badly scorched.

Marine Disasters.

Halifax, N. S. Nov. 22.—Disaster quickly follows disaster, as the result of the severe gale which swept the coast of Nova Scotia the latter part of last week. Following the wreck of the steamer which struck ledges off Mud Island, near Cape Sable, Friday afternoon, news of the foundering of another steamer was made known here late last night. Captain Albert Allen, of the steamer Kilkeel, which arrived here from Port Hastings, reports that a large two-masted steamer blew up and went to the bottom off Beaver Harbor, 50 miles out, Thursday. Her identity has not been established, and so far as can be ascertained, not a man of her crew survived. Another wreck is reported from Ship Harbor, a large schooner, bottom up, having been sighted off that part. Not in recent years have so many wrecks been reported on the Nova Scotia coast with apparently so large loss of life. So far, not a survivor of the three vessels has been reported.

Midshipman Meriwether on Trial.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 22.—Upon charges of manslaughter, conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline, and violation of the naval regulations in having provoked and engaged in a fight with Midshipman James R. Branch, jr., Midshipman Minor Meriwether, of Lafayette, La., was placed on trial before a general court martial this morning at the Naval Academy. Branch's death two days after the fight, which occurred November 5, is the basis of the manslaughter charge, and constitutes the gravest accusation on which a midshipman has ever been brought to trial at the academy. The other charges are incidental to this, but if the court fails to convict Meriwether of manslaughter, such offense is punishable under naval regulations by dismissal and a maximum imprisonment of ten years at hard labor, The midshipman may be sentenced to dismissal for the lesser offenses.

Fires in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 22.—Fire broke out in the large store of the Badger Furniture Company, in the heart of the principal retail district, this morning. At the same time a serious break occurred in the large water in the new federal building. Basements and ground floors of stores in the heart of the city were flooded. The break in the water main was two squares from the fire. The concrete streets paving for nearly half a square was thrown up by the force of the water and the street is impassable. At 11 o'clock a second fire alarm was sent in. The fire is on the top floor, and fire department is reported to be unable to secure sufficient pressure of water. Half an hour after the fire broke out the Badger Furniture Company store was considered doomed to destruction owing to the insufficient water supply. The firemen turned their attention to saving the adjoining building.

Mrs. Mary Rogers to Hang.

Windsor, Vt., Nov. 22.—Mrs. Mary Rogers, the woman over whom a death watch was set today, was told yesterday by one of her attorneys E. B. Flinn, of Springfield, that only a decision of the United States Supreme Court in Washington, which may be given next Monday, can save her from death by hanging on December 8. She heard this news with indifference. Sheriff H. H. Peck, of White River Junction, was in town yesterday for the first time in several days, and held a conference with Deputy Sheriff J. H. Kiniery regarding the erection of the gallows. It was decided to erect the scaffold a couple of days before December 8.

Negro Murderer Lynched.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 22.—Dave Sims, a negro, who blew off the head of Deacon R. F. Jones, manager of the Springfield plantation, near Barksdale, Miss., was lynched early this morning by a mob of sixty men at the scene of the crime. He was captured last night after a two-day hunt, and confessed. It was a quiet affair, and the mob quickly dispersed, after the negro was strung up.

Jones, for who was the owner of the plantation was assassinated Saturday night. Disagreement over the settlement of a yearly account is said to have been the cause of the murder.

Woman Shot Dead by Burglar.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Miss Maud Reese, a stenographer, was shot and almost instantly killed shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday evening by a burglar in her flat. The burglar escaped by leaping through a rear widow, leaving a sack filled with silverware on the floor of the dining room. At the time of the shooting Miss Reese, who was 25 years old, was in the company of her sister Annie and Mrs. M. Baumgarten, who lived with her. Miss Reese was shot through the lung and died in a few minutes. This crime is the climax of a long series of burglaries, in which Chicago women have been brutally attacked by robbers, in almost every case the criminal succeeding in making his escape. More than 100 policemen were rushed into the neighborhood of the Reece home, and a general call sent out to bring in suspicious characters, without result.

Deer Swam Barnegat Bay.

Tuckerton, N. J., Nov. 22.—Dogs are running deer all around Barnegat, Tuckerton and other points. Recently three deer, chashed by dogs, took to the bay and swam to the beach. Next day they swam back to the main land, picking out spots where the water is shallow, except in the channels, and where the bay is well dotted with islands for their passage. A deer was shot recently near New Gretna, and the game wardens are trying to discover who shot it. Now that food is becoming scarce in the woods, the deer are forced into the open. That they are mutiplying is evidenced by the fact that several have been seen with fawn the past week. In some instances they have come near farm houses and are frequently seen in corn fields.

Angel Showed Him New Car.

Hallidaysburg, Pa, Nov. 22.—The most interesting suit and the one involving the largest amount of money ever heard in the Blair county courts, was commenced here yesterday, in the case of Millard F. Blake, of Martinsburg, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, $500,000 for use of his patent for drop bottom cars. Blake claims that he had a vision during an attack of fever, in which an angel appeared to him and explained to him how to built a railroad car which would carry 150,000 pounds, instead of the 30,000 carried by the old style cars. He obtained a patent on his invention and showed it to the Pennsylvania Railroad officials, who, he says, have since used his device without paying him for the same.

Kills Wildcat.

Pottstown, Pa., Nov. 22.—Albert Painter, a young farmer, of Pine Swamp Chester county, had a fierce battle yesterday with a wildcat, which, enraged by a bullet wound, sprang at him from a tree. With the butt end of his rifle Painter managed to beat the animal off after it had clawed him on the hands. Running under the coal cellar of the village school, it was finally driven out, and took refuge in a tree. Painter fired three shots before he could kill the beast.

The boy played with the bottle, and unconsciously communicated some of the virus to the nose, which is now covered with a perfect "vaccination sore."

Reactionary Influence.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 22.—M. Durnovo Minister of the Interior is exercising a reactionary influence in Count Witte's Cabinet and he has succeeded in delaying the publication of the new law guaranteeing the inviolability of the person. The measure granting this right, which was promised in the Czar's manifesto of October 30, has been completed, and is ready for publication. M. Durnovo, however has held the law up and it is not known when it will be promulgated.

Among the bids was that of the banking firm of William A. Reid & Co., of New York, on a basis of 102.95. The bids were disappointing to the city which expected a percentage of 110 to 112.

The Porte and the Powers.

The first section of the Austrian squadron which will form part of the combined fleet of the powers, under Admirrl Ritter von Jedina, of the Austrian navy, in the proposed demonstration in Turkish waters, is due to arrive at Piraus at daybreak tomorrow morning. The French warships will probably arrive at Piraeus after the Austrian vessels, and it is expected that the Italian contingent will follow. Hopes are still entertained at Vienna that the Sultan will acceed to the demands of the powers regarding the Macedonian reforms and thus obviate the necessity of a demonstration. The British armored cruiser Lancaster and the scoutship Sentinel have been dispatched to Piraeus. The frequent and prolonged conference of the Council of Ministers at the Yildez Palace, Constantinople, are believed to indicate preparations to yield in principle to the demand of the powers for the acceptance of the financial reforms decided upon for Macedonia. Probably, however, the Turkish government will make further attempts to secure modifications of the plans before definitely accepting the full programme. The arrival of the international fleet at Piraeus is likely to hasten the Turkish decision. The Russian fleet has returned to Sevastopol after a short cruise in the Black Sea.

River Improvements

The following rivers in Virginia are those which have been selected for widening, dredging and clearing of wreckage of different kinds that they may become at once navigable to vessels of medium draft. A depth of 18 feet was first considered, but on account of of the expense attached, the board of engineers thought it better to recommend that all of the rivers be dredged to a depth of only ten or twelve feet. Those rivers in Virginia which will receive the benefit of this new navigation are: Warwick creek, Norfolk harbor, and from the Norfolk channel of the Elizabeth river to the drawbridge across the western branch; Upper Machodoc creek, Occoquan creek, Quantico creek, Blackwater creek, the channel from deep water in Hampton Rords to the Norfolk navyyard, with a view towards widening and straightening the same. The board will also submit estimates for deepening the water in Hampton Roads to a depth of from twenty-five to thirty feet.

Scene in Court.

Rome T. Chandler was on Tuesday convicted in the Federal Court at Danville of sending improper letters through the mails to prominent society girls of Virginia, and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. Judge Henry C. McDowell, in passing sentence, stated that only the failing health of the young man saved him from a term of ten years. A most pathetic scene was enacted in Court when the sentence was delivered. The aged mother of the prisoner and his sisters fell upon their knees before the Judge, begging clemency. The girls fought their way to the judge's stand, and, throwing their arms around his neck, wept and begged until they were forcibly taken away, the judge escaping to the anteroom. Later the women followed Judge McDowell through the streets to his hotel, crying piteously and begging for clemency.

To Visit King Haakon.

London, Nov. 22.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra are expected to pay a formal visit to the court of King Haakon of Norway in the near future. The English rulers will proceed from Christiana to Stockholm to visit King Oscar, of Sweden, in order that no invidious distinction will be shown to the rulers of the nations which formerly were united under one government.

In Memory of Mrs. Alice E Nutt Wise

Rarely, rarely has one lived among us whose death (on the night of the 12th instant) evoked such universal sorrow as hers to whom I would fain pay this last tribute of affection, tribute that must needs fall short of poor words of mine, since none could adequately portray her worth Yet as a picture is placed on wall for memory, so would I record on printed page what would be forgotten when we too sleep the sleep that knows no waking.

Higher than fame, richer than wealth, more to be valued than any gifts of earth which perish with the using, was this sorrow that gathered so many around a woman's coffin to look their last, through blinding tears, upon the face beneath, and feel earth poorer for her loss. Not one of us living but could envy this rich guerdon of life's ending.

Childless herself the children of others were dear to her; widowed, other hearts were comforted. The hospitality that knew no stint; the kindly greeting that never failed; the charity that covered faults and saw only the best in us; all the pathos of lives that appealed to her and met response, were the outcome of a heart filled with the spirit of kindness, the footprints of her Christ whom she followed.

And it had been so quietly done this garnering of affection, attested by tears that knew no caste. Day by day, year by year, silently, unostentatiously she blessed the lives of others, blessed from largesse of heart, generous hand, and as her own physician said of her, "great soul." For the world is sad enough to each one of us at times, and we need the dole of sympathy and a kind word as the hungry need bread. She gave that sympathy. She gave love; she gave encouragement when the way was hard and courage failed; she gave her time to her friends. She held the confidence confided to her keeping, as sacredly as if told on knees in prayer to God. Only no one heard of any troubles of her own, any more than of one charitable act she ever did[(and who might number them?). Both were between herself and her Heavenly Father.

And in her lonelines, for all to whom the sounds of life are dull, must be lonely, she walked "apart with Him" as the disciples of old in the stillness of desert, when He led them there, and in that consecrated Silence her deepest life was hid. It was her uplifted Cross, borne in perfect sequiscence.

Withal there was no weakness in this goodness, for a stronger personality never made its quiet influence left. With her right was right, and wrong was wrong with no middle road of expediency or compromise. And she had further the courage of those convictions, to be expressed as occasion might arise in word or deed; word ever crystal true; deed, the reflex of her prayers.

As our townswoman, no one was better versed in its history, its people. She remembered all her father had told her of the generation before her She knew herself, and loved those who had loved us and whose names are graven on stones in our cemeteries. It was a rare pleasure to her to talk of them as they lived in years gone by, and it was a greater pleasure to hear them from her lips.

She had followed with husband and father the cause they espoused, and was in the Confederacy from the beginning of the war to its close. Next to her religion was her faith and love for our Lost Cause. Its leaders, its veterans, its battle-slain and battle scarred, its flag, ever dear to her heart, and no changes of time nor circumstance could abate or modify one iota of that devotion.

Recalling this brave unselfish life, the fidelity to duty, the faithfulness to every claim; reviewing its beauty, its completeness, as of some sweet strain of music heard and never forgotten; recognizing the example bequeathed; remembering, oh, far and beyond all, the "recompense of reward" forever hers, we bless Thee, we bless Thee for all Thy servants departed this life in Thy faith and fear, beseeching Thee to give us grace so to follow their good example that with them we may be partakers of Thy Heavenly Kingdom.

Wedding.

Christ Episcopal Church, Eastville, Northampton county, was the scene of a beautiful wedding at noon yesterday, when Miss Susan Upshur Nottingham became the bride of Rev. Edgar Carpenter of Alexandria. The ceremony was performed by Bishop A M. Randolph, assisted by Rev. C. A. Thomas, rector of Christ Church, Eastville, and Rev. Mr. Thompson, rector of Grace Church, Norfolk. Miss Annie E. Hopkins, of Onancock, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Misses Ethel May Nottingham, Grace Wilson, Blanche Nottingham and Mary N. Fitchett. Rev. Mr. Minor, of Norfolk, was best man, while the ushers were Messrs. Thomas B. Robinson, William Wilkins, Franklin Williams and William H. Wescott. Mrs. C. B. Nottingham, of Onancock, presided at the organ. The bride was handsomely gowned in white lace over white silk and carried a shower boquet of Bride's roses. After the ceremony luncheon was served at the bride's home to over 100 guests. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Nottingham and is one of Nothampton's most attractive young ladies. The groom was formerly rector of Eastville and Cape Charles Episcopal churches and is at present rector of Grace Church, this city. After a tour of the northern cities the couple will be at home in this city.

"Dora Thorne."

Next Friday night will be seen at the Opera House the play of "Dora Thorne" which has been attracting considerable attention on account of the popularity of the novel. "Dora Thorne," as a story, is too well known for comment, but it must be admitted that the playwright has improved upon the the plot to such an extent that the play is far more interesting than the book. Dramatic license is somewhat elastic at times to say the least and in the play the most dramatic and exciting points of the book are brought out with decisive action and powerful clearness; nor is the comedy found wanting; much humor is intermingled with the episodes of the drama, making as a whole a play novel and interesting in the extreme. A company of players well suited to their respective roles have been engaged to interpret the well known characters, and a most enjoyable evening's entertainment is promised to all lovers of the best amusements.

Mrs. Elmira Frances Adams died Tuesday at her residence, 801 L street, northwest Washington. Mrs. Adams was 83 years of age. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bradley, of this city. Five children survive her.

Opening of the New Depot.

As has been stated in the Gazette, the new union depot building is now being used by patrons of the different railroads centreing at Alexandria. Every convenience for passengers as well as employees of the companies has been anticipated. There is a marked contrast between the present building and those on Fayette and Duke streets, and all persons in the service of the companies naturally appreciate their present surroundings. Mr. William West is the ticket agent of the Washington-Southern road, and Mr. William G. Lehew of the Southern. At night Mr. McDonnell sells tickets for both roads. Mr. L. O. Hardin fills the position of union baggage agent during the day, and is relieved by Mr. R. H. Remington at night. Mr. James Patterson has charge of the baggage transfer department. William Bansker, Louis Smith and Ed. Jones are day porters, and Milton Downey and Charles Gray perform similar services at night. John Smith has charge of the heating department. Heretofore some vehicles have been using the east front of the depot. All are now required to go to the west side to which good roads have been constructed.

Funeral.

The funeral of Frank M. De Lane, who was struck and killed by a train near Brickhaven, Alexandria county, last Saturday night, took place this morning from St. Mary's Church in this city, this morning, and was attended by relatives and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Cutler. It is believed by some people that the unfortunate man met with foul play. It is said that De Lane had a gold watch and about $200 on his person when he left home Saturday night to attend a theatrical performance in Washington, and that only two street car tickets and a few pennies were found in the pockets of his clothing when his mangled body was found. The coroner's jury will reassemble at the courthouse, at Fort Myer Heights, Friday afternoon and resume the investigation.

"Real Widow Brown."

The production of the "Real Widow Brown" at the Opera House last night, to a good-sized audience, was decidedly the hit of the season, the company presenting the piece being an exceptionally good one. The comedy was extremely funny and kept the audience in a roar of laughter from start to finish. The musical numbers were up-to-date and were well rendered, while the dancing was above the average. The specialties by Miss Minnie Daly, the Brownies, Charles Barrington and Oscar Braddock were excellent and were heartily applauded. Taken all in all, the "Real Widow Brown" was a decided success and well worth seeing. The manager's guarantee was fully backed up by an excellent show.

Colored Boy Shot.

Benj. Tebbs, an eighteen-year-old boy, son of Fred Tebbs, colored, intentionally or accidentally shot himself with a pistol at his home, No. 818 Duke street, about noon today. The mother of the boy Mary L. Tebbs, a dressmaker, ran to Mr. C. J. W. Summers's drug store in search of assistance, and the latter went to the house where he found the boy suffering intensely and his clothes burning. He had been shot in the left breast over the heart. The injured youth was subsequently sent to the Alexandria Hospital where he was attended by Dr. W. M. Smith. No one seemed to know at first whether the boy shot himself accidentally or intentionally, but when he reached the hospital he stated that he had accidentally shot himself while examining the pistol. His injury is of a serious nature.

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.
Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.
Kodol

Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.
After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

St. Nicholas of Myra.

All that is known with any certainty of Nicholas is the bare fact that he lived in Asia Minor somewhere about the beginning of the fourth century. He was bishop of Myra, a Lycian seacoast town, venerable, of course, for his piety and benevolence, and he was revered in the east at least as early as the sixth century. In the Greek church he takes rank immediately after the five great fathers, and under the name of St. Nicholas of Myra he is esteemed as patron saint of by far the largest body of Orthodox Greeks, the Russian empire. As early as the year 500 Justinian dedicated a church in Constantinople to the renowned bishop. In the west, where for a reason he is more commonly known as St. Nicholas of Bari, he was acclimatized for good in the eleventh century. His vogue in the north began with the twelfth, but extended so rapidly that by the reformation he probably possessed in England alone more churches and chapels dedicated in his honor than any other holy personage.—Cornhill Magazine.

Don't Talk of Your Health.

If you are not well don't talk about it.

To do so only exaggerates your consciousness of physical discomfort; also it casts a shadow of gloom over other people. They grow hesitant about asking you how you feel. It gives them cold chills to be continually told that you are "not very well" or "not so well" or "about the same."

Do you know that a good deal of this is imagination? If you braced up and told people cheerily that you felt tiptop nine chances in ten you would feel tiptop pretty soon. You'd forget the ailing habit.

Don't let yourself become a slave to such a miserable little absorber of health and happiness as the perpetual habit of "not feeling well."—Boston Traveler.

The Velocity of Light.

Watch the train as it dashes past you with a speed of sixty miles per hour, and after it is lost in the distance sit down on the track and figure a little on the velocity of light. The train has passed with a mighty rush and great noise, but the silent beam of light flits past with a speed 11,179,560 times greater! The initial velocity of a ball fired from a twelve pounder is 1,765 feet per second; that of light 1,500,134 feet in the same length of time. Comparisons give us but a very poor idea of the velocity, but they enable us to partially comprehend the immensity of the universe, for we know that with all its prodigious speed it takes light four hours to flash from Neptune to our earth.

A Spool of Thread.

To make a spool of thread, says a manufacturer, is a complicated process. Only the very best cotton can be used for this purpose. The cotton is taken in the raw state and torn all to pieces by a machine called a breaker. It then goes through several other machines, by which it is carefully combed and freed from impurities. A machine called a slipper takes it up and twists it out into soft white yarn. This is carefully combed again, and it is taken into another department, where several small strands of this yarn are twisted into one fine one. Three of these are twisted together, and you then have six cord thread, which, after it is bleached, is ready for the market.

Rough on the Bishop.

Bishop Blomfield discovered one day as he entered the pulpit that he had forgotten the manuscript of his sermon. It was impossible to do as the Scottish minister did in similar circumstances, send for the sermon from his home while the congregation sung Psalm 119. No, he must preach extempore, and did so, taking for his theme the existence of God. Very well satisfied he felt with his effort. As he walked home he overtook one of his congregation, whose opinion of the sermon he invited. "Well, it were a very good sermon," was the reply, "but I don't agree wi' it. I believe there is a God."

Safe With a Dead Wren.

The fishermen of the Isle of Man always feel safe from storm and disaster if they have a dead wren on board. They have a tradition that at one time an evil sea spirit always haunted the herring pack and was always attended by storms. The spirit assumed many forms. At last it took the shape of a wren and flew away. If the fishermen have a dead wren with them they are certain that all will be safe and snug.—London Fishing Gazette.

Letter Writing.

Let your letter be written as accurately as you are able—I mean with regard to language, grammar and stops—for as to the matter of it the less trouble you give yourself the better it will be. Letters should be easy and natural and convey to the persons to whom we send them just what we should say to the persons if we were with them.—Chesterfield.

Style or Physical Culture?

McPryme (whose wife won't let him come to breakfast unless his shoes are polished)—I wonder if Mirandy really wants me to be stylish or if this is only to work up an appetite to eat her biscuits.—Success Magazine.

Charity.

"I looked everywhere for you at the church fair last evening," said her ardent devotee, "but I didn't see you."

"You forget," she answered sweetly, "that I am Charity."—Judge.

Never let a man imagine that he can pursue a good end by evil means. The evil effect on himself is certain.—Southey.

Moses as a Sanitarian.

Moses himself was a sanitarian of no mean accomplishments, and many of the principles established by him in sanitary science might well be exploited in modern times. The type of camp which he established for the detention of unfortunate lepers, well modified to suit modern principles, would serve for the check and practical elimination of consumption.—Scientific American.

The Real Puzzle.

"I claim," remarked the man who comments on things, "that there is always room at the top for the man who works."

"Quite true," replied Senator Badger, "but one of the things that have always puzzled me is how so many get to the top without working."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Very Precise.

"Last Friday week was your birthday, wasn't it?" asked Miss Wabash.

"Nonsense!" retorted Miss Boston.

"Why, what's the matter?"

"It was the anniversary of my birth. I'm not an infant."—Philadelphia Press.

Lacking.

Belle—He would be a good match if it weren't for one thing. May—What is that? Belle—He has no head.—Brooklyn Life.

Ridicule is the first and last argument of fools.—Simmons.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and save his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Nature Needs But Little.

Nature needs only a Little Early Riser now and then to keep the bowels clean, the liver active, and the system free from bile, headaches, constipation, etc. The famous little pills "Early Risers" are pleasant in effect and perfect in action. They never gripe or sicken, but tone and strengthen the liver and kidneys. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

But Few Are Free.

But few people are entirely free from indigestion at this season of the year. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is not only the best remedy to use because it digests what you eat but because it also enables the digestive apparatus to assimilate and transform all foods into tissue-building blood. Kodol relieves sour stomach, heart burn, belching, and all forms of Indigestion. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and produce no griping or no unpleasant effect. Sold by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
